

An abstract painting depicting a jazz band. The composition is dominated by a large, dark blue, jagged shape on the left side, which resembles a silhouette of a person or a group of people. To the right of this shape, there are several bright yellow, elongated, and somewhat abstract forms that suggest musical instruments, possibly brass or woodwinds. The background is a mix of orange, yellow, and dark blue. The overall style is expressive and modern, with bold colors and sharp, irregular edges. The text "JAZZ-BAND" is written in a bold, white, sans-serif font with a black outline, positioned in the lower-left quadrant of the painting. The word "Triunfo" is written in a large, bold, black, serif font with a yellow outline, positioned at the bottom of the painting, spanning across the width of the image.
